ACADEMICS

Office of the President

"At the conclusion of an academic year marked by great turbulence and change in the world about us, we should be able to take great satisfaction in the significant advances Methodist College has made during 1968-69. As more new buildings have brought us closer to fulfillment of our goals in terms of physical facilities, so, too, has the college matured in many aspects of its program. The curricular opportunities offered by the college have been enlarged and enhanced. Another important aspect of this developing maturity has been the increasingly responsible role played by students in our aspirations to greater excellence in academic endeavors and greater harmony in the community life that is such a valuable asset to any campus. With such a spirit and purposefulness we look forward to still greater accomplishments in the years ahead."

Methodist College Foundation

Mrs. Hazel C. Horton
Secretary, Office of Development

The Methodist College Foundation, Inc., was established by the citizens of Fayetteville and Cumberland County for the specific purpose of providing financial aid and other support to the college. In 1957 the Foundation deeded the campus acreage to Methodist College and has since raised more than one and one half million dollars for the building program. Fund efforts continue through the Foundation, its board of directors, officers, and two full-time employees. The Foundation Office is located in the Horner Administration Building on the campus.

Student assistant Karen Job aides Mrs. Horton in filing statements for the Foundation.

Institutional Advancement

Department of Public Relations

Mr. William P. Lowdermilk
Director of Public Relations

Mrs. Cora Anne Turner
Secretary

Miss Patsy Melvin
Secretary

The Public Relations Department serves as a liaison between prospective students and Methodist College. Its main objective is to promote the image of the school to the public, other colleges, and high schools. This year the Department of Public Relations is included in the Division of Institutional Advancement under the direction of Mr. Charles McCullers.

Mrs. Carol Ouverson, Informational Services Director, and Mrs. Mary Ann Culbreth, Secretary, prepare a public relations news release for the Fayetteville Observer.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees, as the legal governing body of the college, is the legal owner of the college property and has final responsibility for all legal actions which the college takes. It grants academic degrees, approves requirements for degrees, and formulates other policies governing the operation of the college. It approves curriculum changes, changes in regulations governing student life, the annual operating budget of the college and is responsible, as a corporation, for the financial solvency of the college. The Board delegates to the President, and through him to his administrative officers, the responsibility for administering its policies. The Board is allowed to have a maximum of 36 members. There is no requirement that a member of the Methodist church or that he must reside in any particular area or state.

Office of the Academic Dean

The Academic Dean has the responsibilty for the academic program and academic personnel of the college. He serves as a link between the faculty and the president and as administrative supervisor of academic procedures and activities. The Academic Dean recruits the faculty, approves curricular schedules and teaching assignments proposed by area chairmen, and represents the college at various meetings of professional educational organizations. He represents the faculty and the academic program in meetings of the Academic Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees at the invitation of the committee.

Within the administrative structure of the Dean's Office are the offices of the Registrar, the Director of Admissions and the Library.

Library

The main function of the Davis Memorial Library is to help supplement the college curriculum and to encourage students to read leisurely. Facilities include periodical and reference sections housing 40,000 volumes, a music listening room containing recordings and music scores, open stacks, a conference room and spacious reading area. The library subscribes to 400 periodicals covering subjects stressed in the academic program. A new addition is the Materials Center located in the classroom building. It contains a collection of teaching aides, including school curriculum material, textbooks, children's literature and audio-visual instructional equipment.

The Office of the Registrar is responsible for the arrangement of class schedules and for class registration each semester. It maintains the academic records of all students, and keeps on file all applications for admission plus any student correspondence. It is the duty of this office to process grades, to send out grade reports, and to compute grade-point averages. From these averages, the office compiles a list of names of students eligible for the Dean's list and of students on Academic Probation. It keeps all transcripts up to date and, at student request, sends out authorized transcripts.

English Language and Literature

The Area of English Language and Literature attempts to prepare students to use their own language with correctness and effectiveness, regardless of the individual's chosen field. All entering freshmen are required during orientation to take a placement examination in English which becomes a part of the student's permanent file kept by the college. Entering students must bring with them at least basic preparations for correctness in grammar and form. Where there are numbers of students who may have special trouble in English (and do well enough in other courses), individual conferences are held.

While good English is the responsibility of every other Area at Methodist College, Area I bears the immediate and important responsibility of advancing the student's literary ability. Freshmen and sophomores are required to take basic courses in composition and in surveys of British literature. In basic courses, demonstrated literacy is prerequisite to a student's staying in Methodist College.

In addition to basic courses, Area I prepares elementary and high school teachers as well as those students who wish to pursue their careers in graduate schools, including divinity schools.

Religion and Philosophy

Area II designs its course offerings toward two fundamental ideas: academic excellence and the Christian concept of life. As the intellectual and spiritual development of the student body is of foremost importance, courses enable all students to become more familiar with the Bible, the Christian tradition and the Church in contemporary society, and man's philosophical strivings. Therefore, students are required to take six hours in Old and New Testament and three hours of Philosophy.

Courses are initiated in Religion and Philosophy for those students who anticipate graduate and professional training in the areas of Christian faith and service.

Education and Psychology

Methodist College graduates many students who enter the field of education. Located in an area of rapid growth, the college is highly successful in placement of student teachers. While many Methodist College teacher graduates are employed locally, recruiters for teachers come to the campus from several other states. Education students may continue in graduate school and qualify for positions as school administrators, supervisors, principals and guidance counselors. Additional courses in psychology, in which a minor is offered, prepare students for school psychologists, teachers in special education and testing specialists in schools and industries.

Science and Math

Methodist College offers the major and minor in Biology, Chemistry, and Mathematics and the minor in Physics. In both Science and Mathematics the instruction is split into two categories: one directed to students who plan to major in a Science or in Mathematics, the other to students whose major fields of interest lie elsewhere and who will take courses in this area primarily to satisfy requirements for the A.B. degree. All degree candidates must take a year of study in both Mathematics and Science.

The department attempts to meet the needs of pre-professional students in preparation for admission to post-graduate programs in medicine, dentistry, nursing, public health and veterinary medicine. In addition Area IV prepares students for teacher certification in the areas of Mathematics and Science.

Social Sciences

The general objective of the social science program is to enable the student to acquire an intelligent appreciation and understanding of the relationship between himself and the society in which he lives, and of the development of all other past and present human societies.

The specific objective of the area is to prepare the major student for a career. It enables him to grasp the overall picture of his career and the relationship between his and other related careers.

Foreign Languages

The study of languages has for centuries been considered an essential part of a liberal arts education. One of the requirements for all Methodist College students is a year of French, Spanish or German beyond the elementary level. The goal of Area VII is to impart a real ability to understand, speak, read and write the language with the hope that these fundamental skills will remain and form a foundation for further progress. An oral command of the language is stressed and regular work in the language laboratory is required in all beginning and intermediate courses.

Students are encouraged to travel abroad and avail themselves of the many opportunities for study in Europe or Latin America. One of our Spanish teachers regularly takes groups to Madrid for study during the summer. Of the eight teachers in the language area, five are foreign born, and the others have spent much time abroad.

Fine Arts

Area VI offers formal courses of instruction and activities in the fields of music and art. These are open to all students in the college. The area is housed in a newly constructed Fine Arts Building, which includes an auditorium, classrooms, art studios, exhibit areas, teaching studios, ensemble rehearsal rooms, and private practice rooms.

The music department offers two majors and a minor. The two majors available are the special subject teacher of general music and the music major. These majors may prepare a student for a career in church music or for graduate study in other music-related fields.

At present Methodist College offers a curriculum in art leading to a minor in the field. Art courses, both studio courses and classes, are open to all students in the college. Instruction is offered in drawing, painting sculpture, design, art history, and art education.

ACTIVITIES

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association has been proud of this past year's efforts to unify the student body, to dissolve some of its problems, to provide exceptional entertainment to the student body, and to act as an effective liaison between the students and administration.

Several committees were set up to receive student dissension and to handle the problems of the student body and student-faculty-administration relationships. This year, more than any other year, the Student Government Association has received the trust and responsibility that it has deserved from the administration.

Legislative Branch

The Senate acts as the legislative arm of the Student Government Association, setting the standards which constitute our self-governing activities. This branch is composed of four representatives and an alternate from each class. Powers of the Senate include the regulation of approved campus clubs, the enactment of constitutional laws and the impeachment of officers.

Senators Jeff Blackmon and Terry Boose.

Judicial Branch

The Judicial Branch of the Student Government Association is composed of the Student-Faculty Judicial Committee, The High Court, and the dorm courts. The High Court functions "as the supreme . . . judicial instrument" of the Student Government Association in accordance with Article II of the constitution. Its purpose is to mete out justice and to protect the rights of the individual.

HIGH COURT JUSTICES

State Student Legislature

Methodist College's fifth delegation to the State Student Legislature was strong in both leadership and legislative experience, each member having past Senate membership. At present the S.S.L. delegation is the only official Student Government organization that represents the college to off-campus, state-wide organizations. This year legislation from the S.S.L. of last year was presented to the North Carolina General Assembly.

Ronnie Russell, Chairman

Barbara Schutz offers a suggestion at a January S.S.L. meeting.

Entertainment Committee

The S.G.A. Entertainment and Publicity Committees were very active both semesters. The Entertainment Committees's hard work was seen in "happenings," dances, free movies, and "grub-ins." The Publicity Committee provided information of social and athletic events to the student body.

Publicity Committee

Elections Committee

Who stuffed the ballot box?

The Committee tallies the votes cast in the freshman elections.

The purpose of the Elections Committee is to coordinate all class and Student Government Association elections. It is responsible for counting votes and posting the results in the student union.

David Hatchell, Chairman; Al Schwint.

Concert-Lecture Series Committee

The Concert-Lecture Series Committee is responsible for obtaining cultural entertainment and during second semester presented Jose Greco, world-renowned flamenco dancer. The Student Union Committee did much to improve the student union this year with new furniture, a ping-pong table, and a pool table.

Student Union Committee

Alumni Association

This has been a year of growth and enrichment for the Methodist College Alumni Association. The previous three years have been spent in laying a foundation. The 1968-69 year has been one in which the services and opportunities of the organization have been developed.

The first Alumni Chapter meeting was held on January 11, 1969. The first Alumni quarterly newsletter was issued in November of 1968. The newly created liaison committee paid its first visit to the campus in November to explore ways in which the Alumni Association could best be of service to the college. The spring of 1969 will be the occasion for the first fifth year class reunion.

With these beginnings the Alumni Association is planning more and better services and opportunities for Methodist College Alumni.

The Alumni look forward with anticipation to the opportunities of supporting their Alma Mater with time, interest and finances.

Speeches begin at the 1968 Alumni Banquet held during Homecoming.

Alumni register at the 1968 Homecoming.

Science Club

Stimulation of interest in scientific and mathematical fields is the main objective of the Science Club. As a member of the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science (CANCAS), which sponsors lectures by many of the foremost scientists, students come into contact with leading authorities in many fields. Two students from Methodist served as secretary and historian in the Collegiate Academy during 1968-69.

Bimonthly meetings are supplemented by an annual fall cookout, guest lectures, and weekend trips sponsored by CANCAS. The club's major project this year was to work in conjunction with the Town and Country garden club to prepare a natural garden in the south courtyard of the Science Building.

Student Education Association

The Student Education Association of Methodist College strives to promote the interest of the field of teaching as a profession. The club, associated with both the N.C.E.A. and the N.E.A. organizations, selects programs which inform prospective teachers of their rights and responsibilities to their students and community. Its members seek to improve themselves as teachers, to raise professional standards and to better the schools. The monthly meetings feature a wide variety of programs which offer valuable aid to prospective teachers of Methodist College.

The Education magazine is a valuable aid to members in preparation for their profession.

Mr. Campbell from Veeder-Root spoke at the December 9 meeting of the club.

Economics and Business Club

The Economics and Business Club was formed in November, 1967, to offer interested members of the Methodist College community an opportunity to gain a more thorough understanding of the business world than could be obtained in the classroom. The club meets twice a month with activities including guest speakers, films, parties, and various fund-raising projects.

History and Political Science Club

The History and Political Science Club seeks, through on-campus speakers, trips off campus, and rallies with similar clubs of other campuses, to broaden the knowledge of its members in the areas of History and Political Science. The club also participates in the Middle South Model United Nations which enables four of the club's members to meet with students from colleges along the East coast and to discuss the United Nations, learn about its operations and participate in a mock General Assembly. The overall aim of the club is to aid in preparing its members for careers in teaching, law, government service, and other areas.

Esperanza Spanish Club

The Esperanza Spanish Club's main goals are to promote the study of Spain, her language, culture, and people by providing financial support to any club member interested in spending one summer of study at the University of Madrid. The club proudly boasts of having the largest membership of any organization on the Methodist College campus. Besides the traditional spring fashion show, several activities for entertainment were sponsored. The most enjoyable activity was the "DATING GAME" held during the last week in February. Members of the Spanish Club feel that the Club enjoys success as a result of the intense interest and care given by its advisor, Dr. Esperanza Escudero.

French Club

The recently organized French Club, advised by Dr. Charles Rowe, was established in hopes of promoting more activity in the field of French, thus increasing the students' interest in the French language beyond the usual classroom proceedings.

Music Club

Those students interested in a career in music education compose the student chapter of the Musical Educators' National and State Conference. Members are sent valuable teaching information, in addition to meeting each month.

The club, in its third year of organization, provided ushers for musical events on campus, held receptions after faculty recitals, established the tradition of presenting a bouquet of flowers to girls giving their senior recital, and sponsored its second annual bake sale in November which was a very successful fund-raising event to send members to the State M.E.N.C. Convention in Charlotte, N.C.

Chorus

The Methodist College Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Alan Porter, is a select group which provides music for official college functions, church services, civic groups, and for service clubs in the Fayetteville area. This year members made a successful tour through South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida during mid-semester break. Another activity included a performance with the Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra and the Community Chorus. The Chorus' year was highlighted by their Spring Concert.

Wind Ensemble

The Methodist College Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Rodney Hill, presented a number of concerts during the academic year for the student body and community. Throughout the year various members of the ensemble provided music at the soccer and basketball games. This group of students, which forms the Methodist College Pep Band, attended the basketball tournament for the last two years showing their support for the Monarchs.

Green & Gold Masque Keys

Sound, staging, and lighting facilities in the new Reeves Auditorium enabled the Green and Gold Masque Keys to reach their height of success in providing more and better plays during the year.

The major production first semester was The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams. In December, the drama club presented three one-act plays: Overtones by Alice Gerstenburg, Santa Claus by E.E. Cummings, and If Men Played Cards as Women Do by George F. Kaufman.

Second semester the Green and Gold Masque Keys presented the tragedy, Wingless Victory by Maxwell Anderson and Phillip King's farce, See How They Run. Their last accomplishment of the year was an entertaining play during the Royal Arts Week.

Art Club

The Art Club was organized to stimulate interest in the visual arts. The organization gives talented individuals an opportunity to exhibit works in juried and sidewalk shows and also provides decorations for on-campus activities. It provides a forum for discussion of contemporary works with guest speakers.

In short, the club hopes to positively promote an intellectual atmosphere and to bring the art world nearer to the Methodist College student.

The Laureates

The goal of the Laureates is to promote and encourage interest in creative writing. The staff, headed by Bill Parker, surveys submitted material and chooses the best to be published at least twice a year in Tapestry. The activities of the club include book reviews, poetry forums, and guest speakers such as poets and newspaper editors. At the meetings, members and their guests are given an opportunity to display, read, and act their own creations.

Carillon

Most of Methodist College has been aware of the Carillon staff this year, forever sending notices, visiting offices, scheduling pictures and requesting information of one sort or another. The '69 staff has been a particularly active group in handling its responsibilities of gathering information and producing a book worthy of its circulation.

The editors of the '69 Carillon saw their task as directing the production of a more modern yearbook, one up-to-date, centered around a "now" theme: HAPPENINGS. As a result there have been several obvious changes made involving various aspects of the book, including the introduction, dividers and conclusion pages.

sMALL TALK

sMALL TALK is the student newspaper of Methodist College which serves as the voice of the entire college community. In the first national critique in its seven year history, it was awarded a First Class commendation by the Associated Collegiate Press. A major reorganization provided a new and unique system whereby editors became elected at midyear. During this year sMALL TALK has experimented with weekly issuance and circulation has increased from 1400 to 1700 copies per issue.

Circle K is a national service organization which is sponsored by Kiwanis International and associated with the Cape Fear Kiwanis Club represented by Col. R.F. Qualliotine. The club has endeavored throughout the year to serve the college and community.

Circle K held various fund-raising projects, highlighted by the second annual Miss Boiler Plant Pageant in Reeves Auditorium. It was judged by several members of the faculty and the emcee was Mr. Fred Reardon. Contestants were picked from among Circle K Club members and other students to compete for the "coveted" title of Miss Boiler Plant 1968.

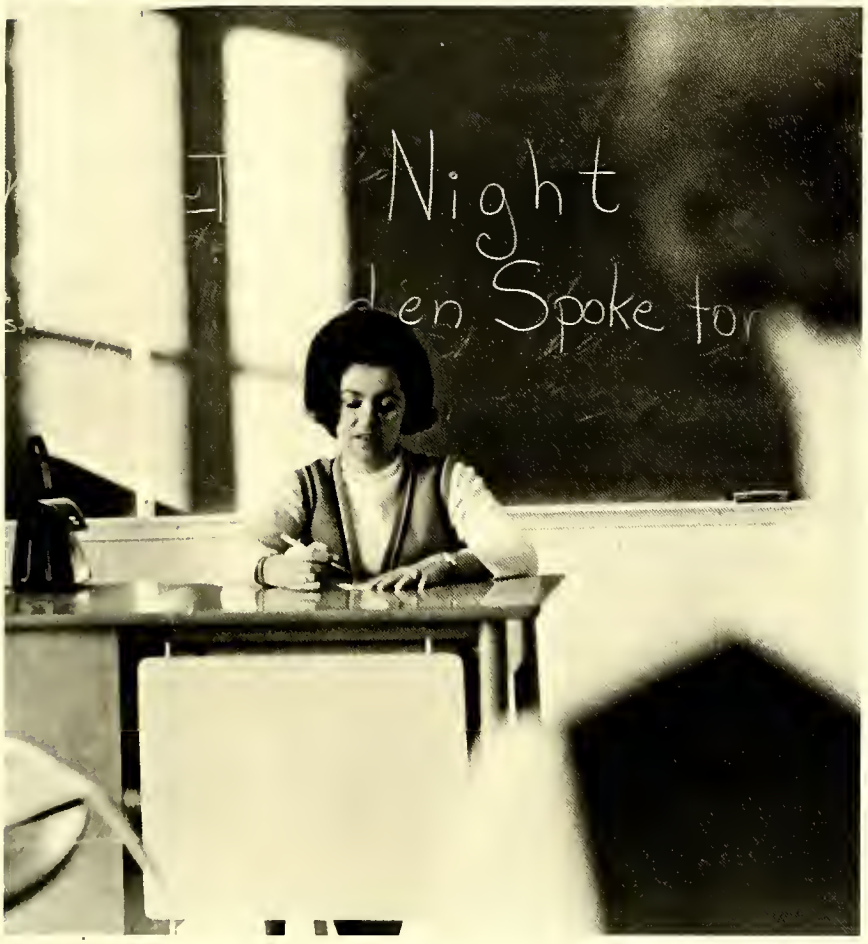
Connie Autry, President, discusses the Coeds' plans for second semester.



Co-eds

Young women of the Coed Club serve both the campus and the community by emphasizing the advantages of the American way of life. Their first project for the year was a campus car wash. During Christmas they visted the children at Womack Hospital who were confined to their beds. Their final project was a campus beautification program.

Collegiate Young Republicans

The Collegiate Young Republicans endeavors to inform interested students of the ideals, goals, and party organization of the Republican Party through speakers, tours, trips, and investigation. The club also provides an avenue by which all political thought can be compared and contrasted in debate and informal discussion.

The main belief of the party holds that each man is capable of making a choice. Therefore, by presenting both sides of the political spectrum, on an unbiased level, one may select the party best suited to his beliefs.

Half-time can be pretty hectic for Monarch Club members, Bill Pearce, Don Leatherman, and Dave Bowman.

Monarch Club

Membership in the Monarch Club is limited to those athletes who have lettered in a varsity sport. The club's goals are to promote school spirit and establish a meaningful relationship between Methodist College athletes. Among their activities was the selling of drinks at home games and of "Sock it to 'em, Monarchs" bumper stickers. The money gained went towards the purchase of awards blankets for the graduating senior members.

Interfaith Council

The Interfaith Council is composed of two representatives from each denominational group on campus. The council has attempted to initiate an ecumenical spirit on campus, and this goal was accomplished through many successful coffeehouses. One of their main projects this year was to continue sponsoring 12 foster children in Taiwan. This project involved the entire student body, which provided an even more participative spirit.

The main activity of the Interfaith Council is in planning Religious Emphasis Week, which takes place in the second semester. The Council planned as its main objective to create a new spirit on campus which would combat any apathy which might arise.

Methodist Student Movement

The Methodist Student Movement is the campus organization for students who are affiliated with the Medthodist Church. It encourages students to develop a mature and meaningful faith within the college community. This year's activities included bi-monthly dinner meetings, a caroling party in December, and a weekend Retreat in early February. The Methodist Student Movement presented the "Royal Feast" after the May Dance during Royal Arts Week in May.

Baptist Student Union

The purpose of the Baptist Student Union is to cooperate with other campus chapters of the North Carolina B.S.U. in supporting the activities of the state council. The club has undertaken as its main project a tutoring program of its own. Second semester plans included a fund-raising program to help support the summer missions project of the state B.S.U. Throughout the year, periodical meetings were held to interest Baptist students of Methodist College.

SPORTS

Cheerleaders

Perhaps no organization has helped spark enthusiasm and augument school spirit more than the cheerleaders. These seven dedicated young women have helped curb student apathy that proved so prevalent on campus in past years. Through their indefatiguable efforts and the expert guidance of their advisor, Miss Diane Cawman, the cheerleaders organized many successful pep rallies, and helped make this year's Homecoming activities the biggest and best ever. This year they sponsored a candy sale and knife sale to help pay their own way to the conference basketball tournament in Greensboro. Aside from making signs and posters for atheletic events held in the gym they also kept the student body informed about upcoming athletic competition. Their dedicated service, a great asset to M.C. sports, has received little recognition on campus and they should be congratulated on a job well-done.

Soccer

Don't just look at the record. Methodist soccer team performed creditably this year and the overall record isn't commensurate with the effort exerted. Despite the loss of seven starters from last year's squad, all games were hard fought. The Monarchs weren't overwhelmed - only out-experienced. This year's squad had a difficult third year trying to compensate for inexperience among its ranks while competing against many formidable opponents. Coach Sykes praised the team for its spirit and high moral and noted that in 1967 the team lost fewer games but the scores of games lost were higher than those of the 1968 season. Led by several returning lettermen, Coach Sykes, as well as the entire student body, anticipate a very prosperous 1969 soccer season for the Monarchs.

A sport seldom in the limelight on campus, Cross-Country gained great attention this year. The Monarchs placed second in the Dixie Conference with an overall 8-6 record, 6-3 in conference play. This 1968 Cross-Country season was basically a year of rebuilding after losing many starters from last year's squad. Many fine runners with great potential and capabilities were recruited to help get Methodist back in contention for the conference championship. A challenging fall schedule kept the team in fine running shape and this conditioning finally paid off. At the Dixie Intercollegiate Atheltic Conference Cross-Country Championships at Lynchburg College, the Monarchs placed two runners in the top ten and seven in the top twenty. Be on the lookout for the Monarchs next year as they battle their way right to the championship.

Basketball

This year the Monarchs reigned supreme in the Dixie Intercollegiate Conference, accumulating an 11-3 conference record. This remarkable season set precedence in Monarch basketball—Methodist's first Dixie Conference Basketball championship. Perhaps one of the most exciting and unforgettable games of the season came against UNC-Charlotte at home when the Monarchs upset the first place team in triple overtime to ascend to the number one position themselves. That night Methodist's Roy Henderson attained a new high game scoring record for Methodist at 43 points, breaking the old mark of 38 points set earlier in the year by Jim Darden.

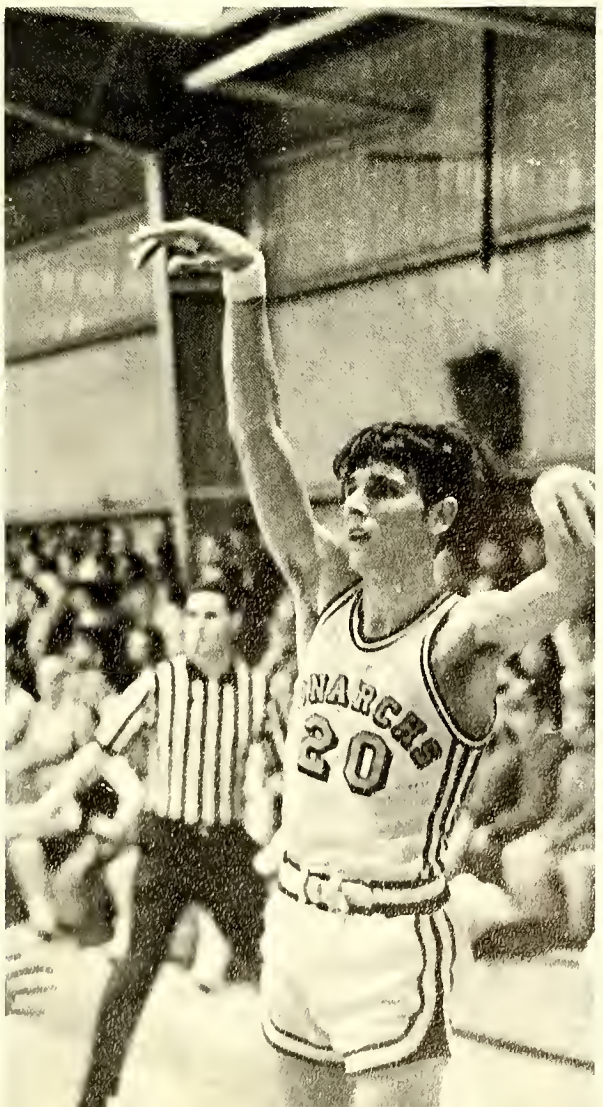
Jim dominates on the court.

Roy's famous swish shot from the outside.



Both Roy Henderson and Jim Darden were elected to the Dixie "All-Conference Team." Jim Darden, a 6'5" senior, has rewritten the record book in his tenure as a Monarch and is the first and only Dixie Conference player in history to win a all-star position for four consecutive years. Howard Hudson received well-deserved recognition this year, being awarded "honorable mention" by the Dixie Conference. This year Methodist's highest scorers were Darden and Henderson, tallying 22.7 points and 22.3 points per game respectively. John Conwell, an aggressive 6'5" freshman, placed second in rebounding with 127 behind Darden's 190. Overall, the Monarchs in their 19 regular season games shot 48% from the floor and 71% from the foul line.

At the Dixie Conference Tournament at Greensboro College, avid support from the student body and pep band aided the Monarchs in attaining a third place finish in the tournament. The Monarchs dominated the scene as Roy Henderson was named an "All-Tournament" player, Coach Gene Clayton was proclaimed Basketball Coach of the Year, and Miss Barbara Schutz reigned as Tournament Queen. The Monarchs, by virtue of their first place finish in the conference, played in the District 29 NAIA Tournament against Elizabeth City State.

JV Basketball

The Monarch Junior Varsity team had a rough season this year. The predominately frosh team was matched against teams which were usually more experienced than they themselves were. In spite of this drawback the J.V. Monarchs gave it all they had to end the season with a 2-9 record. Coach Shelley worked hard with his team and hopes for a better record next year due to the experience gained by the team members. This year's high scorers were John Conwell, Bobby Thompson, and Billy Harrington. The J.V. Monarchs worked hard and long this season and are ready, willing, and able to go it again next year.

Wrestling

Strain, sweat, groan—that's the sport of wrestling. The struggle between men evenly matched in weight, strength, and skill is demanding, exhausting and muscle-tearing.

In the DIAC Tournament, Methodist College took two first places and two second places. Tom Spence successfully defended the first place he won in last year's tournament. In the 160 pound class, Steve Gibson finished with top honors. Richard Swink and Dale Leathers took seconds in their weight classes. Despite having to forfeit the heavier weight classes, Methodist finished third in the tournament.

Volleyball

Intramural volleyball was won this year by Second Floor Cumberland A team. There were 8 teams competing for the title: Second Floor Sanford, Third Sanford, Third Cumberland, First Cumberland, First Sanford, Faculty, and Second Cumberland A and B. Members of the championship team were Terry Boose, John Tugwell, Ed Dunn, Dave Dayvault, John Curtis, Frank Lee, and David Bouteiller. Finishing in second place was Second Floor Cumberland B team, showing the domination of Second Cumberland in the sport. The victory by the Cumberland A team recaptured the title which they had lost last year.

*Still to be played as book goes to press

This year, M.C.'s keglers have made a winning season a reality, and are now tied for first place in conference action with St. Andrews. The Monarchs are anticipating the regular season championship and hope to triumph at the upcoming Dixie Conference Tournament. With two matches left, veteran Paul Dhyse, averaging an impressive 194, is credited with high game (235), and Keith Sutton trails close behind with 233. Dhyse has also captured high series (606), and the high scoring team series now rests at 959.

Tennis

The 1968 tennis team was the most enthusiastic and displayed the most desire to win of any previous netter squad. Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Bruce Shelley, the team displayed fine attitude and will to win that led them to a strong finish. The team placed fourth in conference play and drove on to take the second position in competition at the DIAC Tennis Tournament.

The Monarchs tennis squad will be returning virtually unchanged for the 1969 season with the loss of one player to graduation.

Golf

Coach Gene Clayton guided the Monarchs to a respectable season in 1968, in what he termed "a rebuilding year." Each week the Monarchs fielded a six man team, which played conference members, as well as facing some of the state's finer small college teams. Golfers playing prominent roles during the season were Dick Estes, Leon Ellis, Rich Harrington, Danny Gibson, Rick Vieth, Danny Dopps, and Lee Raynor. With four returning lettermen and a talented group of newcomers hitting the fairways this spring, Coach Clayton looks toward a solid improvement in this season's team.

Football

Intramural football provides relief for the many tensions and aggravations that build up during the academic year. As indicated by the close-fought games, tension and aggressive tendencies were certainly released during this year's action.

In the first semifinal game of the tournament, Second Floor Sanford downed Third Floor Cumberland. Third Floor Sanford defeated Second Floor Cumberland in the second semifinal. In the very close championship game, Third Floor Sanford led 2-0 until the last play of the game. In the final forty seconds, Second Floor Sanford scored a touchdown to clinch the game and the tournament.

Soccer

Intramural soccer had a very successful season with avid participation and keen competition. First floor Cumberland, second floor Cumberland, second floor Sanford, and third floor Sanford were all vying for the championship. Third floor Sanford came out victorious with a 3-1 win over second floor Cumberland in the championship game. The team trophy was second for third floor Sanford.

Ping Pong

This year a new intramural sport was initiated on campus. Ping Pong competition was held in the student union after twenty showed a desire to vie for a trophy. Single elimination events were held over a three day period, each match victory constituting 2 out of 3 games. The field was narrowed down to four contenders: Warren Southerland, Mr. David Hutto, Charles Bullard, and Danny Dopps. Southerland successfully downed Hutto, and Bullard crushed Dopps in the semi-finals. After two very hard fought games, Southerland, representing Second Floor Sanford, captured the crown.

Oh, "Great Bearded One" show us how it's done.

It would be much more fun if we used a ball.

You called me a funky what?

Basketball

The men's intramural basketball competition began on February 24, with two leagues composed of six teams each. In League One the defending champs, 2nd floor Sanford, have all starters back except two and appear to be a strong and fast moving team. Stiff competition is expected from two other old teams, 3rd floor Sanford and 2nd floor Cumberland.

In League Two, there will be a strong team invested in the faculty members. Student team captains include Roy Teer, Greg Bellamy, and Danny Gibson.

Yea, I'm a star and I got a '61 Plymouth, too.

The faculty presses.

Jumpball!

Dunn fires from the key.

Softball

The 1969 intramural softball season broke into full swing shortly after the Carillon's final deadline. The defending champion, Second Floor Cumberland, was again expected to be the winning team, but the strength of this year's intramural program will make it difficult for any team to duplicate Second Floor's undefeated campaign of last year. All in all, it looks like another exciting season is in store for Methodist's intramural diamondmen.

Sock it to 'em!

May Week

The second annual sMALL TALK Talent Show marked the beginning of the Royal Arts Festival, commonly known as May Week. The show, "To Broadway With Love," featured many of M.C.'s most talented students and was highlighted by the introduction of the 1968 May Court: Misses Caroline Norman, Bonnie Briles, Beth Carr, Trudi Jaber, and Barbara Schutz. The Davis Memorial Library formed the setting for a week-long exhibit of art work by M.C. students. Entries in the exhibit were judged by Mr. Claude Howell of Wilmington, and first, second, and third places and honorable mention positions were announced. Two one-act plays, "Hello Out There" by William Saroyen and "Impromptu" by Todd Mosel, were presented by the Green and Gold Masque Keys as their contribution to the Arts Festival. The Concert Lecture Series sponsored Mr. William Miller, tenor, in concert, and the M.C. Wind Ensemble presented a lawn concert as musical contributuions to the week. May Week culminated on May 4 with the annual May Dance, sponsored by the Junior Class. The theme of the formal dance was "Night Life in New York" and it featured music by the Bachelors, a 14-piece orchestra that has played widely throughout Virginia and North Carolina. The highlight of the dance was the crowning of Miss Trudi Jaber as the 1968 May Queen, an appropriate ending to a May Week truly crowned with success.

Homecoming Festivities

Jay and the Americans

"The Greasy Spoon," alias the Snack Bar, resounds with the guitar music of Pat Corn at the coffeehouse.

"Is yours as hot as mine?"

The pressure of school work is forgotten, and a whole new atmosphere pervades.

The Fourth Annual Homecoming of Methodist College started in full swing with the coffeehouse sponsored by the Interfaith Council. Entertainment included campus talent from folk singing to original poetry. The week continued with the Masque Keys' production of Tennessee Williams' drama, "The Glass Menagerie," presented in Reeves Auditorium. School spirit reached its peak at the bonfire held on Thursday night. In mass, the students cheered the Monarchs everywhere from the dorms to the library with the final stop in the Student Union for the S.G.A. Grub-In.

Our Homecoming game, which resulted in a loss to the Knights of St. Andrews Presbyterian College, was followed by the traditional Alumni Banquet. The entertainment highlight of the week was the concert by JAY AND THE AMERICANS, sponsored by the S. G. A. The show was a great hit with the audience and included a mixture of comedy and songs. Saturday night's Homecoming Dance featured the CLASSICS IV, and the week came to an appropriate close with the crowning of a new queen.

Dorm Decorations

It is Methodist College tradition that during Homecoming Week the dorms rival each other in display of school spirit. This year's decoration themes included Garber Hall's "Crate the Knights," Cumberland's "Crown the Knights," Sanford's "Joust the Knights," and Weaver's prize-winning "Homecoming '68" Georgena Clayton received the trophy for Weaver Hall during the Jay and the Americans concert, thanking those who participated in the "all night" preparations.

Miss Beth Carr

Miss Carillon

Beth's personality won her the coveted title of Miss Congeniality.

The Miss Carillon Pageant was held on the evening of February 6th in Reeves Auditorium. Under the guidance of Miss Connie Autry and guest Mistress of Ceremonies, Miss Marilyn Koonce, the pageant was a lovely affair. The twenty-one contestants were judged in street and evening wear competition with corresponding themes in stage decorations of a travel agency and a sweetheart scene. Entertainment was provided by Jim Poole, Pat Corn, Jim Maud, Steve Doub, and Ricky Vieth.

Dances

Methodist College students have enjoyed their leisure time on campus at various dances, grub-ins, and happenings held throughout the year. To start the year off and to help acquaint freshmen and upper classmen, several mixers and dances were sponsored by different clubs during orientation. The "Hats-Off" dance, featuring the Alpacas, marked freshman freedom from orientation restrictions. A dance was sponsored by the Spanish Club, and the Interfaith Council presented a series of coffeehouses, which afforded a completely new atmosphere on campus. The Student Government Association brought to the college such name groups as Jay and the Americans, The Classics IV, Ronnie Dove, and The Vogues. Providing a break in the midst of school work were the S. G. A. happenings, introducing the News and Wayne Lo Guidice. In December the Sophomore Class sponsored the Christmas Dance with a new theme of "Ski Lodge," and in February the Freshman Class chose "Heart and Soul" as the Valentine Dance theme.

It's "Happening" at M.C.

The annual Christmas Dance, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, featured a "Ski Lodge" theme and casual dress.

Miss Boiler Plant

Once again the beautiful members of the Circle K Club presented their annual Miss Boiler Plant Pageant. Grace, poise and feminine charm were exhibited as hopeful contestants competed for the coveted title. After much suspense Theresa Pizza (Steve Atkinson) was crowned the new queen. Added entertainment was provided by the emcees Tiny Tum Reardon and Tinker Bell Ransone. Afterwards Miss Boiler Plant was escorted to the Garber Hall Halloween Party and Dance given in her honor. Music at the pageant was by a campus group, composed of Steve Doub, Steve Thompson, Pat Corn, Richard Dean, and vocalist Jim Poole. Playing for the Halloween party was another campus group, The Mindless Dream.

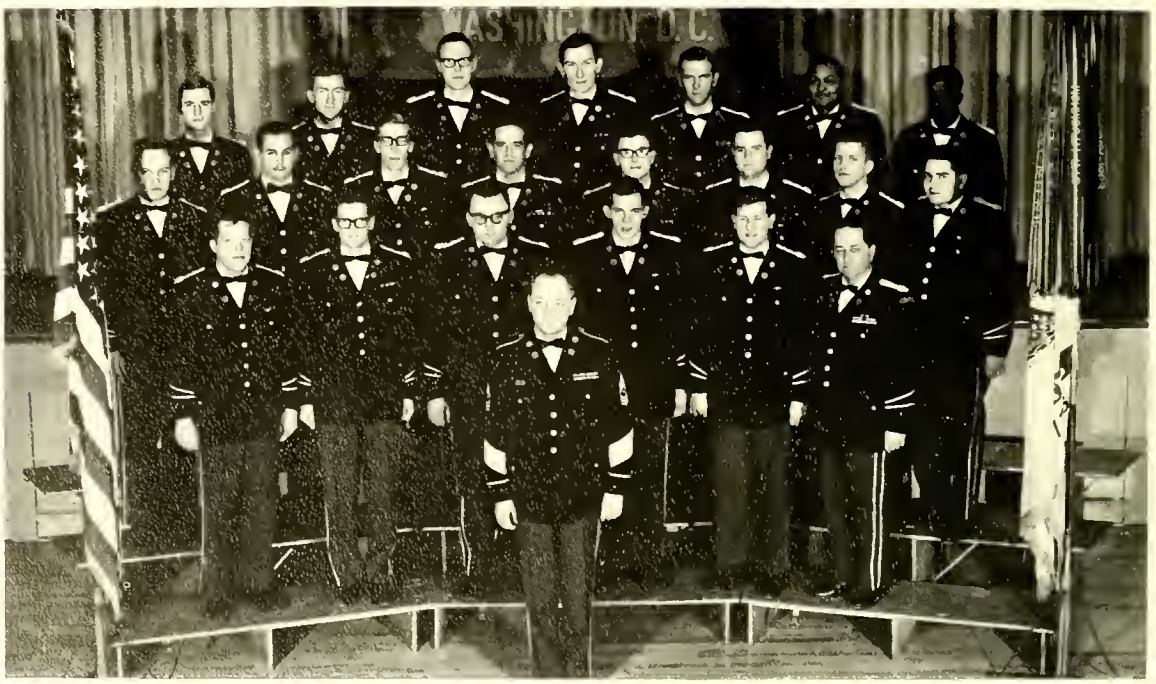
Garber Hall Fashion Show

Garber Hall's fourth annual fashion show, presented this year before the Thanksgiving holidays, had as its theme The Coed: An American Campus Tradition. Seventeen girls of Garber Hall modeled their own selections of the latest fashions with Mr. Raymond Conley as the Master of Ceremonies. Casual, dress, and evening-wear categories were represented by approximately forty different ensembles chosen from ten local merchants who sponsored the show. Between each category presentation Ann DuVal, co-ordinator of the show, awarded various door prizes. Entertainment, provided by Jim Poole, Pat Corn, and Ronnie Bott, was also enjoyed by the audience during the two intermissions. Proceeds from the show went to the Garber Hall ice machine fund for the girls of that dorm.

The Musical Arts Woodwind Quintet, a part of the Concert-Lecture Series, appeared in the spring of last year.

Dr. Davidson Nicol, African educator, university president, writer and medical scientist, lectures on "The American Contribution to Africa in the Twentieth Century." Dr. Nicol visited the campus on October 15, 1968, as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer.

The United States Army Field Band of Washington, D.C. presented an outstanding concert on campus in the spring of 1968.



The Soldiers' Chorus, under the direction of Sergeant Major Eugene Coughlin, is a unit of The United States Army Field Band.

Fine Arts

Mr. David Hutto paints one of his most interesting exhibits.

Throughout the years that Methodist College has been in existence, the faculty has scheduled a series of free cultural events to Methodist College students.

The choice of concerts, lectures, or recitals rests with the Faculty Fine Arts Committee. The committee in conjunction with various town groups has greatly improved the cultural atmosphere of the college.

During the 1968-69 season, a series of fifteen concert-lecture performances were sponsored either by Methodist College or co-sponsored by Methodist College and Fayetteville Town groups. Some of the more outstanding performances were given by the Fayetteville Symphony Orchestra; Jerome Hines, bass; El Greco and Company; Methodist College Chorus; and Methodist College Wind Ensemble.

Mr. Lorin Hollander, world-renowned pianist, presented a recital in Reeves Auditorium in December, 1968.

In preparation for his art exhibit in Reeves Auditorium, Mr. Green examines a painting.

Garber Hall

Garber Hall is proud of the tradition it has established in its six years of existence. Garber girls have come to anticipate the annual events of the Halloween party, winter fashion show, Christmas collection for the needy, and senior sign-out in the spring. Other activities this year included open houses and Homecoming.

Weaver Hall

Named in honor of the college president, Weaver Hall is the newer of the two women's dorms. Now in its fourth year of use, it houses one hundred fifty girls. This year the "Weaver women" participated in open houses upon several occasions and had their annual Christmas party complete with Santa Clause and his elves. Weaver Hall is especially proud of its trophy for first place in dorm decorations during Homecoming.

Sanford Hall

Sanford Hall, the newer of the men's dorms and with a capacity of 160, opened its doors to students in the fall of 1965. Sanford, under the presidency of Wayne Blake, sponsored a dance to welcome the 1968-69 school year. Mrs. Guy Hudgens, Sanford's dorm mother, is a great favorite with the boys.

Cumberland Hall

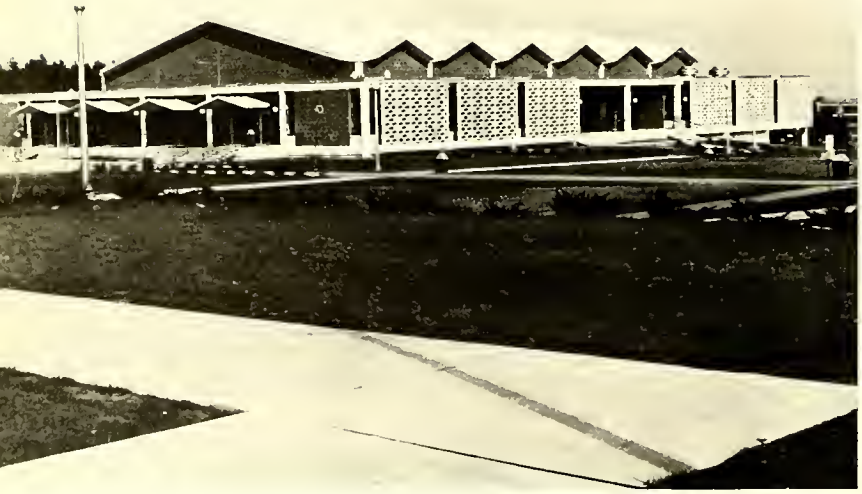
The first men's dorm, Cumberland Hall, was opened in 1962. The dorm houses 138 men who engage in many of the athletic activities on campus. Cumberland holds several open houses during the year, which Mrs. Scott, their dorm mother, looks over with a stern eye.

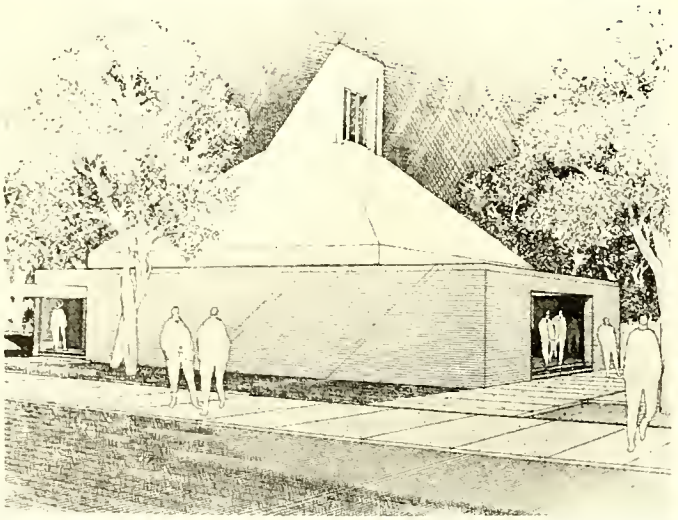
THE YEAR

Campus Construction

The Student Union addition, completed in the summer of 1968, houses the snack bar, a stationery store, a gift shop, the book store, and the college post office.

The Fine Arts Building—Reeves Auditorium is dedicated to John Mercer Reeves, member of the Board of Trustees. The bi-level structure, completed in the summer of 1968, contains faculty offices, classrooms, art studios, individual music practice rooms, choral and ensemble rooms, a stage, ticket office and property storage.



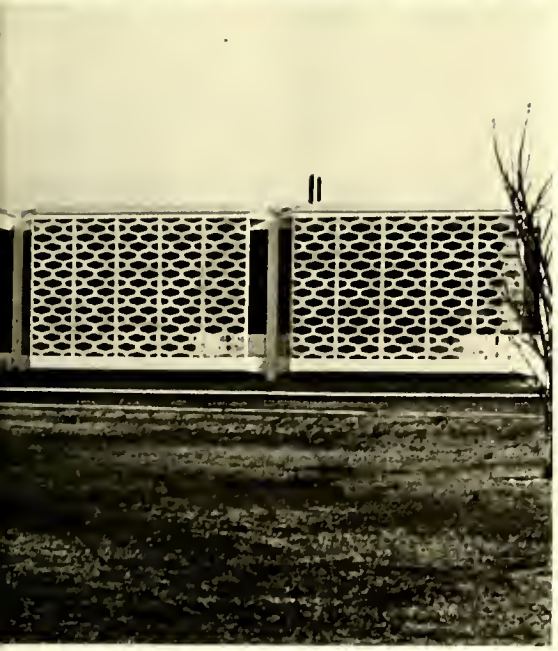


The J.W. Hensdale Chapel located at the east end of the Fine Arts Building will be completed by September, 1969. The chapel, seating approximately 100 students, will be a brick and concrete one-story building.

The Horner Administration Building is dedicated in honor of William Edwin Horner, member and first Secretary of the Board of Trustees. The administration moved into their new offices in the summer of 1968.

The Pool and Fountain, completed in September of 1968, were given to honor W. Ed Fleishman, original member of the Board of Trustees, by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fleishman, Mrs. Leon Fleishman, and Mrs. W. Ed Fleishman. The fountain features fourteen changing cycles and is illuminated at night by a variety of colored lights.

The Michael Terrence O'Hanlon Memorial Ampitheater, funds for which were donated by Mr. and Mrs. I.H. O'Hanlon in memory of their son, is located on the shores of a small lake near the main campus. To be completed in the spring, the ampitheater will seat 500 people for outdoor musical dramatic and religious activities.



During the past year, Methodist College has undergone tremendous growth with the addition of six new structures, including Fine Arts and Administration Buildings, a Student Union addition, the Chapel, ampitheater, pool and fountain. With the addition of each of these structures, Methodist is gradually approaching the goals of its founders. At the present time the college has a total of seventeen completed buildings.

In Memoriam

Death, be not proud, though some have called thee
Mighty and dreadful, for thou art not so;
For those whom thou think'st thou dost overthrow
Die not, poor Death, nor yet canst thou kill me.
From rest and sleep, which but thy pictures be,
Much pleasure, then from thee much more must flow,
And soonest our best men with thee do go,
Rest of their bones and souls' delivery.
Thou art slave to fate, chance, kings, and desperate men,
And dost with poison, war, and sickness dwell,
And poppy, or charms can make us sleep as well,
And better than thy stroke; why swell'st thou then?
One short sleep past, we wake eternally,
And Death shall be no more; Death, thou shalt die.

Editorially

As we readied the last deadline material for mailing we felt we deserved the luxury of a sigh of relief when it was over. For once there was the chance to relax and wait and wonder what the book would be like . . . and, most important to us, what you would think of it. No one seems to realize the amount of work and time involved in the production of this small masterpiece, this attempt to preserve the highlights of the year. Midnight oil, skipped classes, weekend nights spent in the publications room with photos and layouts and copy (beloved companions), the running around in circles, torn-out hair, shattered nerves and worry, worry, worry . . . but the sigh of relief was worth waiting for—and so was the 1969 CARILLON, we think.

We, as editors, would like to express our special thanks to our photographers, Dave Marshall and Chris Drew, who probably feel lucky to have survived the year. Also Joe Sprott, our trusty business manager, deserves much praise for keeping up with our financial affairs and mail. And last but not least, we'd like to thank those dedicated members of the staff without whose assistance this book would have never made it to press. (Congratulations, Walt, for bringing in all those sports enthusiasts to help us out with captions.)

We would like to express our gratitude to the following persons for their assistance:

Dr. L. Stacy Weaver
Dean Dowd
Mr. Bill Lowdermilk
Mrs. Carol Ouverson
